Director of Finance

Sheraton Stockholm Hotel is with its 465 guest rooms and suites, 360° Restaurant & Bar and banquet/conference facilities for up to 700 guests, one of Stockholm's largest international first class hotels. Sheraton Stockholm Hotel fosters a creative, entrepreneurial and energetic work environment where people come to work and have the opportunity to make personal contributions to the business in which they work. We value passionate people who love to be challenged and desire the freedom to contribute to the overall success of the organization, while accepting full responsibility and accountability. Sheraton Stockholm Hotel is part of Marriott International, with more than 5500 hotels around the world.

Position

We are now looking for a Director of Finance who will have overall responsibility for planning, directing and managing the provision of accurate, timely and objective financial data from which informed management decisions can be made.

You will direct the preparation of annual budgets and monthly forecasts and reports and provide advice on strategies aimed at cost minimization and maximization of revenue opportunities.

In conjunction with the General Manager, you are responsible for compliance with relevant contractual and legal obligations, hotel Finance policies, the Hotel Management Contract and all other Marriott Corporate Policies.

You will lead and inspire the Finance associates; conduct development and performance reviews and identify high potentials for further development. You will implement and maintain training systems to ensure that associates have the necessary framework and skills to perform their jobs efficiently and effectively.

As a member of the Executive Committee, you will support the hotel's financial goals to ensure that financial expectations are met.

Requirements

This is an ideal role for a results orientated individual. You must be extremely organized with a strong ability to multi-task. Excellent communication skill are essential. A collaborative leader with a strategic and analytical focus. Influencing and innovating abilities that span beyond their immediate direct reports as well as demonstrated sound decision making skills and good judgment are critical.

You will have a Bachelor's Degree and/or Master's Degree in Accounting or Finance or related area required and four to six years related experience in hospitality, including at least three years of managerial experience.

Experience in Sweden and Swedish language capabilities is a distinct advantage.
